Hobbies and Skills

My hobby is exploring food. I love searching for great places to eat, from hidden local restaurants known only to residents to Michelin-starred dining.

As a guide living in Miyazaki, I always go to Shinto shrines and learn Japanese Myths.

Self Introduction

From the sunny land of Miyazaki in southern Japan, I welcome travelers with warm Japanese hospitality. Before becoming a guide, I worked as a hotel concierge in Cancun, Mexico, where I assisted VIP guests from around the world. That international experience shaped my approach to guiding: attentive, thoughtful, and always personal. As a storytelling guide, I enjoy sharing the fascinating stories behind Japan's culture, traditions, and myths, helping guests experience not only the places we visit but also the spirit that lives within them. Food is another passion of mine. I love exploring hidden local restaurants as well as renowned culinary destinations across Japan. As a community radio host, I share these discoveries in my weekly segment, "Shiho's What I Want to Eat!", celebrating the rich and delicious world of Japanese cuisine.
